English Action Plan

September 2024 – September 2025

Statement of Intent for English at Millbrook

At Millbrook we aim to deliver a high-quality English curriculum that gives the children the best possible opportunities to become confident and successful readers and writers with a deep love and understanding of the English language. We believe the development of reading and writing skills is central to improving a child's life chances.

Our teachers have high expectations for all the children to achieve and enjoy the art of writing and to be able to use the skills they acquire in a range of contexts. We promote reading throughout the curriculum and children are taught to develop their reading skills every day. We strive to ensure all children can communicate clearly in written form and become masters of language.

Children are given daily opportunities to explore and develop their reading and writing skills through a number of rich, engaging and creative activities in order to prepare them for the world they live in.

We understand the importance of writing and language in our lives and we are committed to ensuring we do our very best to help the children in our care become creative writers and successful readers.

We feel English teaches our children:

- To be passionate about reading and writing and have the opportunity to showcase their own personalities and interests through the study of these skills
- To become more fluent and confident readers who develop the key phonetic knowledge needed for to become independent learners
- To develop their comprehension skills and become confident to question the world around them through the texts they read and their interpretation of these
- To develop their subject knowledge in spelling, grammar and punctuation to aid them in their writing in the future and apply it accurately
- To develop a stamina for writing and be creative with their compositions, bringing in their own perspectives or passions
- To be able to articulate themselves more freely and have a deeper understanding of vocabulary used ambitiously
- To grow in confidence to communicate with others through paired and group work, as well as become more confident to present in front of people
- To be exposed to a diverse range of texts, authors and influential figures, allowing them to broaden their knowledge of the world around them and to embrace their personal perspectives
- To make links between the skills learned in English and other subjects within the curriculum and understand that education is a fluid process.
